

“In a poignant exchange with God, Adam states that he will call the woman Eve. And why does he call her Eve?

Because she is the
MOTHER OF ALL LIVING.

Eve was given the identity of the mother of all living years, decades, perhaps centuries before she
ever bore a child.

It would appear that her
motherhood preceded her maternity.

I believe ‘mother’ is one of those very carefully
chosen words, one of those rich words-
with meaning after meaning.

I believe with all my heart that
it is first and foremost a statement
about our nature,
not a head count of our children.”

- Patricia Holland

“In a poignant exchange with God,
Adam states that he will call the
woman Eve. And why does he call her Eve?

Because she is the
MOTHER OF ALL LIVING.

Eve was given the identity of the
mother of all living years, decades,
perhaps centuries before she
ever bore a child.

It would appear that her
motherhood preceded her maternity.

I believe ‘mother’ is one of those very carefully
chosen words, one of those rich words-
with meaning after meaning.

I believe with all my heart that
it is first and foremost a statement
about our nature,
not a head count of our children.”

- Patricia Holland

